How do you see the role of arts and culture in Kingston?

Art and culture reflect how society (artists) views the world around it. Often art also allows people to reflect on how society is evolving or changing. Successful society's support art so that future generations can understand how a society saw itself at any given time. Moreover, a vibrant community of artists attract visitors, people interested in enjoying the ideas or creations of a particular artistic community. I believe that the art community should be supported for this reason.

What role should the City of Kingston play in supporting a sustainable arts and culture sector?

The City of Kingston should support the arts community by providing low-cost venues for artists to display their work. Furthermore, the city should play a role in helping promote art shows with the idea of attracting visitors to come and enjoy local art produced in Kingston or the surrounding area.

If elected, are there any actions you would take to help strengthen Kingston's arts and culture sector?

If approached with any reasonable suggestion on how the city could support the arts community, I would certainly reflect on what has been suggested and promote all ideas which will provide a tangible benefit to the city.
