How do you see the role of arts and culture in Kingston?

Arts, culture, and recreation is the true measure of a civilization in my opinion. For most of us life isn't just about working, eating, and sleeping. We yearn to experience the world, and from music to art festivals this is a very important sector to Kingston.

What role should the City of Kingston play in supporting a sustainable arts and culture sector?

The city can help in a variety of ways, but primarily by ensuring that suitable venue options exist to maintain a healthy environment for events and programming to occur, both indoor and outdoor. This, paired with funding and support for local community arts programs will help to foster a health arts and culture sector.

If elected, are there any actions you would take to help strengthen Kingston's arts and culture sector?

I'll be honest, I'm looking to bring my experience in construction to ensure the city is being effective at operating and maintaining its infrastructure and other assets, which is the primary operation of the municipality. While I'm an avid arts enjoyer, I'm a step removed from what the sector needs at the moment. Please, give me your input, let's build a better Kingston.

Additional Comments

Love what this sector does. Over my years I've gone to see bands, musicals, comedians, art fairs and more across multiple venues in Kingston. I look forward to enjoying more.

I encourage everyone to look into what's going on around town. There's a little bit of everything for everyone.
