

CREATING MORE INCLUSIVE PRACTICES

Enhancing Workplace Accessibility through Disability Disclosure, Accommodation, and Inclusive Practices

 ASL/English interpretation provided

 Free and open to all

Leah Riddell

27 FEB, 2025
11:00 AM - 1:00 PM
Rehearsal Hall, Tett Centre

Creating More Inclusive Practices Series

Enhancing Workplace Accessibility through Disability Disclosure, Accommodation, and Inclusive Practices

Led by Leah Riddell

Date: 27 February, 2025 | 11:00 AM - 1:00 PM

How do we create workplaces where everyone feels supported and included? Join Leah Riddell from SignAble Vi5ion for an insightful, practical, and empowering workshop that explores workplace accessibility in the arts sector.

In this extended in-person session, Leah Riddell will provide a comprehensive introduction to creating an inclusive work environment, with a focus on disability disclosure, effective accommodations, accessible technology, and insights into the Deaf community's unique experiences in workplace and artist settings. This session will be particularly beneficial for your front-of-house team as they work to better support Deaf artists, and for the broader team as you consider ways to welcome Deaf and Hard-of-Hearing individuals into your staff in the future.

Workshop Details

Time: Approx. 2 hours

Location: Rehearsal Hall, The Tett Centre | 370 King St. W. Kingston, ON

Cost: Free (RSVP required)

Access: ASL interpretation provided

Who Should Attend?

This workshop is ideal for arts administrators, theatre professionals, performers, visual artists, educators, and anyone interested in building a more inclusive arts sector. Whether you're an independent artist or part of an organization, this session will provide actionable tools to create lasting change.

For questions or additional accessibility needs, please contact PCC@ArtsKingston.ca